MIDDIES WIN BRILLIANTLY OVER FIELD

Repeat Triumph of 1921 in Greatest Battle Ever Witnessed on Hudson Course

ONE-LENGTH MARGIN

Washington Second, Syracuse Third
Cornell Fourth, Columbia
Fifth, Penn Sixth

(By the Associated Press.)

Poughkeepsie, June 26.—The United States Naval academy eight-oared crew is still inter-collegiate rowing champion of America.

In the greatest aquatic battle ever witnessed on the historic regatta course of the Hudson, the Middies this afternoon repeated their triumph of 1921 by winning the three-mile varsity race from the greatest collection of college shells that ever rowed in a similar race in the history of the sport.

Forced to terrific speed by the repeated challenges of Cornell, Washington and Syracuse, the sailors from the Severn finally emerged victors by one length over the University of Washington eight, champions of the Pacific coast. Scarcely a length behind the far coast's shell, came Syracuse and Cornell so closely locked that it was only after a long discussion among the judges at the finish that the former was awarded third place over the Ithaca combination. Outdistanced almost from the start, Columbia and Pennsylvania fought out a duel of their own to avoid last place, and in this the New York colleges were successful, leading the Quakers across the line long after the other shells had ceased their forward headway.

So bitter and grueling was the struggle from the start opposite the Columbia boathouse, down under the towering railroad bridge and forward through the last mile in a lane lined with yachts, excursion steamers, submarines and submarine chasers, that the Middle sweep-swingers were forced to shatter all collegiate rowing records in their efforts to hold the lead. As the prow of the Navy shell shot across the line, the time caught the flying crew in the remarkable figure of 13 minutes, 33 3-5 seconds, thus shattering by more than half a minute the record made by the sailor shell when it won last year by a full five lengths from California in 14 minutes and 7 seconds.

The Seattle collegians, after one of the most desperate battles ever witnessed in an inter-collegiate rowing association regatta, finished in 15 minutes, 36 1-5 seconds.

On any other waters and at any other time, the freshman race would have stood out as a contest of unequalled dramatic climax. The yearling eights from Cornell, Syracuse, Pennsylvania and Columbia preceded their varsity brothers by almost an hour and put up a race comparable in intensity and sensationalism to that which marked the later and longer race. Off in the lead, Cornell's flying crew in the remarkable figure of 13 minutes, 33 3-5 seconds, thus shattering by more than half a minute the record made by the sailor shell when it won last year by a full five lengths from California in 14 minutes and 7 seconds.

Three Crew Captains Elected.

Poughkeepsie, June 26.—Three university crew squads elected captains here tonight following the annual regatta of the Inter-Collegiate Rowing association. Stroke S. B. Brody was selected leader of the 1923 Columbia crew; E. Wheeler, who rode No. 8 in the Pennsylvania varsity shell this afternoon, was named as captain of the Quaker navy next year, and Strike N. Murphy was re-elected captain of the University of Washington eight.

Syracuse left without naming its new leader and Cornell following its usual custom, will not elect for some time. H. A. Bolles, No. 4 in the victorious Navy eight, is the only Middie who will be eligible for next year's crew. He is a local man for 1923 captain, but according to announcement here tonight, no elective action was taken.

RETAIN SHINGLES ON THE FREE LIST

Senate Cleans Up Wood Schedule
by Confining Itself Closely to the Tariff Bill

Washington, June 26.—Confining itself more closely to the tariff bill today than it has on any day since the measure came before it, the senate cleaned up the wood schedule by voting, 49 to 18, to retain shingles on the free list and then disposed of all committee amendments to the tobacco schedule. Tomorrow it will come to the agricultural schedule with its multitude of duties on farm products.

The controversy over shingles was confined almost wholly to the Republican side and took up most of the day. The Republican agricultural tariff bloc split in the vetoing, as did the majority of the committee. Senators Watson of Indiana and Curtis of Kansas, committee members, voting to make shingles dutiable.

Only two controversies of moment arose over the tobacco schedule and all rates proposed were approved without roll calls. The committee majority receded from its recommendations for duties of $2.35 a pound on unstemmed wrapper tobacco and $2 on such tobacco stemmed, accepting the house figures of $2.10 and $2.75, respectively.

Senator Pomerene, Democrat of Ohio, moved to cut the $2.10 duty to $1.85, but his amendment was rejected.

Other committee rates approved were 35 cents a pound on unstemmed filler tobacco, 50 cents a pound on such tobacco if stemmed, and 35 cents a pound on scrap tobacco.

JACK WON'T MEET WILLS THIS YEAR

But Boxers Are Expected to Sign
Articles Today for Bout
During 1923

New York, June 26.—Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills will not meet for the heavyweight boxing championship before 1923, because of the difficulties connected with staging the contest, promoters here announced tonight. Rickard and managers of the two boxers are expected to sign articles tomorrow for a bout in 1923, with a provision giving the promoter until June 30, 1923, to name the site.

Rickard explained that he was weary this year but said he regarded the fight as one of the most difficult he had ever undertaken and would be unable to complete necessary arrangements before next year.

The two miles, the race and pace was a thriller. Only Pennsylvania's 150-pound crew failed to stand the strain. Experts realized that under the favorable racing conditions all four junior eights were racing at unusual speed but they were hardly prepared for the official announcement that every crew with the exception of the Pennsylvania 150-pounders had broken the record of ten minutes, one-fifth second made by Cornell back in 1915. The Ithaca combination of this year, finishing with a lead of more than two lengths, was clocked in nine minutes, 45 3-5 seconds. Columbia was second in nine minutes, 52 seconds. Syracuse third in nine minutes, 54 seconds, and Pennsylvania juniors fourth in nine minutes, 58 seconds.

Press Efforts to Free
Kidnapped American

(By the Associated Press.)

Mexico City, June 26.—Berto J. Pani, secretary of foreign affairs, has been officially advised by the British embassy of the kidnapping yesterday of A. Bruce Bielaski, an American citizen, in the state of Morelos, and the promise has been given that all possible measures will be taken to effect his release.

Although Mexican federal troops have been liberally scattered through the region in an attempt to apprehend the captors, they will not be so hard pressed as to jeopardize the lives of their prisoners. The other person kidnapped was Manuel Barcena, a Mexican attorney. Mr. Bielaski is the chief of the bureau of investigation of the United States Department of Justice during the war.

Shortly before noon today both the American embassy and the consulate told the Associated Press no word had been received concerning Mr. Bielaski and that the facts as published in

NEW ANGLE TO HIRSH MYSTERY

Wife, Accused of Shooting Freeport
Man, Will Nurse Him
Back to Health

TEACHER WAS SLAIN

Could Not Have Killed Himself, Experts Probing Miss Lavo's
Death Say

Freeport, June 26.—The mysterious shooting of Oscar A. Hirsh, wealthy electrical contractor, on the lawn of Reine Davies, former movie actress, late Saturday night, took another turn today when Mrs. Hazel Hirsh, released on bail after having been accused of shooting her husband, took him home from the Minnesota hospital to nurse him back to health.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hirsh denied she had pulled the trigger in a scuffle which had followed their departure from a party given by Miss Davies, but neither said who had fired the shot—whether Mr. Hirsh or a third party.

In her first public statement since the party broke up in a wild scramble as the shot was heard on the quiet night, Mrs. Hirsh said that far from firing the shot, she was doing "everything possible to prevent it."

Hirsh, who is well known in the town's theatrical colony, defended his wife. "You don't think I'd be fool enough to come back to a wife who had shot me, do you?" he was quoted by his attorney. "If she was the kind of a woman who would shoot, would she be the kind I could shield? If she shot me, I certainly would not have attempted to shield her."

Mrs. Hirsh Talks.

"I have been asked to make a statement," said Mrs. Hirsh this afternoon, "but in my condition at this time I do not wish to say anything other than this:

"It is silly for anyone to think that I would do anything to harm my husband. Our relations have been too close."

"My husband knows I was not responsible in any way for his being shot and knows I did everything possible to avoid his being shot by trying to save him. I do not care to go into other matters, as that seems to be the sole matter of interest to the public now."

"Mr. Hirsh is back from the hospital and is living home the same as usual. I am doing everything to nurse him back to full health. I trust the public will excuse me from any further statement, as it must realize the position in which I am placed by this unfortunate accident."

Assistant District Attorney Elvan N. Edwards, who has charge of the investigation, stated that so far his inquiries have shown no traces of anything but a quiet Saturday night party on the Davies lawn before the shooting. He said, however, that there were several details which must be cleared up before the real story of the shooting could be determined.

One, he said, concerned the finding of two revolvers. Hirsh, the prosecutor said, admitted owning both. One is a .32 calibre and the other a .25 calibre. One shot had been fired from each gun. Hirsh was hit in the chest by the bullet from the smaller weapon, Mr. Edwards asserted. Both guns were found on the lawn, which became the center of an excited gathering as Hirsh fell.

Mrs. Hirsh Has Injured Eye.

The other bothersome point, Mr. Edwards said, concerned Mrs. Hirsh. She appeared at a hearing before a police judge with one eye injured. While it did not appear to be a regular "black eye," it was cut and discolored. So far no attempt has been made to explain it, Mr. Edwards asserted.

Mrs. Hirsh was held for further examination when she was arraigned before Police Judge Johnson today, bail of $25,000 set last night was continued. George M. Levy, her counsel, moved to dismiss the charge on the ground of insufficient evidence, but the motion was denied. Mr. Edwards told the judge: "I will be able to show that this is a clear case of assault in the first degree."

Conviction for assault in the first degree may carry a sentence of five to ten years in prison.

Mrs. Hirsh was accompanied to the court by her attorney, and Thomas Powell, her bondsman. During the hearing she held a handkerchief over her right eye, which is cut. Mr. Edwards indicated the case would be put before the grand jury next Wednesday.

Hirsh left the hospital today. He walked to his automobile and was driven home.

Miss Lavo's Not a Suicide.

Freeport, June 26.—Miss Edith Lavo, the school teacher for whose death William Crenshaw of Covington, Ky., a former sweetheart, is being held, did not have killed herself, experts from New York declared after examining the body today. Crenshaw insisted that Miss Lavo shot herself as she lay on a couch in her sitting room. The examination, which included tests in the room in which the body was found, was made by Dr. Otto Schultz, a medical examiner and former coroner's official, and William Jones, formerly of the New York police homicide bureau.

While the tests were going on at the request of Assistant District Attorney Elvan N. Edwards, detectives found an unfinished letter addressed to Miss Lavo's mother at Upper Lake, N. Y., in which the girl said she had "dismissed" Crenshaw the day before. The letter was written on a note pad, and was unfinished, as if someone had interrupted the writer.

NOTED ARMY AIRMAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Captain Hamilton, World War
Hero, and Buffalo Sergeant
Met Death at Gettysburg

Gettysburg, Pa., June 26.—Captain George D. Hamilton of Washington and Sergeant G. R. Martin of Buffalo, N. Y., were instantly killed here this afternoon when the army airplane in which they were circling 3,000 feet above Gettysburg battlefield went into a tail spin and crashed to earth.

Captain Hamilton was on the ground. Martin was attached to the fifth marines, who had arrived at Gettysburg today for maneuvers. They were engaged in scouting work for the marine column. The captain was instantly killed and the sergeant died in a hospital.

The machine, a DH-4, was completely wrecked.

Captain Hamilton served as a major in the World War and was awarded a congressional medal. He was 27 years old and was said to have been a well-known athlete.

Washington, June 26.—Captain George D. Hamilton, United States marine corps, killed today in an airplane accident at Gettysburg, Pa., was one of the best-known officers in that branch of the military service.

The officer was a son of Charles A. Hamilton, Washington correspondent for the Buffalo Times and other newspapers, and was 30 years of age. Serving with the fifth marines, in which he also was detailed at the time of his death, Captain Hamilton participated in all the major engagements in which the marine corps took part in France from the Aisne-Marne or Chateau-Thierry offensive to the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

Captain Hamilton was commissioned a major after having displayed exceptional bravery at the battle of Chateau-Thierry, was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and was twice granted the Croix de Guerre with palm. He also was chosen as the official painter of the marine corps official painting of the action on the Meuse river the night of November 10-11, the last action of the war in which the marines took part.

Sergeant George Russell Martin, who was killed with Captain Hamilton, lived at 927 Virginia street, Buffalo. He was serving his second enlistment and had seen service in San Domingo.

N. Y. C. SHOP CASE BEFORE THE BOARD

Attorney Asks Dismissal on Ground of Lack of Jurisdiction
But Is Overruled

Chicago, June 26.—Jacob Aronson, general counsel for the New York Central railroad, appearing today before the Federal Labor board, moved to dismiss the shop affair case against his road on the ground that the board was without jurisdiction.

The case grew out of the contracting of repair work in the East Buffalo shops by the New York Central to William J. Connors, Buffalo business man.

Chairman Ben W. Hooper, however, promptly overruled the motion, ordered the case to proceed and in subsequent remarks indicated plain that the board would follow the principles laid down in several previous decisions on contracts, each holding the carrier guilty of violating the law and the board's rulings.

A strike vote is being taken by railway signal men on approximately one-third of the railroads of the country according to an announcement today by D. V. Helf, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Signalmen. The vote is being taken for the supervision of the system general committees, all of which have rejected the wage cut set for July 1.

Hope of averting a strike faded with statements by John Scott, secretary of the Railway Employees' department, that the board's ruling in the contract cases would put no check on a strike call. Piece work and the farming out system were made one of the issues in the shopmen's referendum, the others being the wage cut, effective July 1, and rules by the board governing overtime and other working conditions.

UNION POLICY IS UNALTERED

Administration Efforts to Settle
Coal Strike Meet With Preliminary Check

LEWIS SEES HARDING

Talk Over "General Problems"—
Investigation Into Herrin
Disaster Continues

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, June 26.—Administration efforts to bring about a settlement of the bituminous coal strike met with a preliminary check today.

After conference with President Harding and Secretary of Labor Davis, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, announced that the union policy still was unaltered and unyielding in its insistence that a new wage scale must be set up for the strike-ridden mining districts by national or semi-national conferences with operators.

The meeting between Mr. Harding, Secretary Davis and Mr. Lewis, which took place around the White House luncheon table, was the last of a series of conferences into which Secretary Davis took Mr. Lewis after his arrival from Cincinnati Sunday.

Officially no statement was forthcoming, though Secretary Hoover was also called to the White House for a word with the President about the situation immediately after Mr. Lewis left. Apparently no spokesmen for the mine operators were in the capital for today's discussions.

"We talked over the general problems of the bituminous industry and the strike," Mr. Lewis declared on leaving the White House, "its overdevelopment and intermittency, and projects for its stabilization."

"No definite plans affecting the strike were decided upon. The strike situation is unchanged."

Actual Strike Supersedes Suspension

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 26.—Assured the support of 150,000 union anthracite miners, who have remained under suspension of work since last April 1, the general wage scale committee today began tabulating the referendum just completed and preparing for declaration of an actual strike.

Plans were laid for the foundation of a "war chest" with a financial campaign through the principal cities of the east and the public solicitation of funds, to enable the miners "to carry the present situation to victory."

The committee did not officially authorize the substitution of the word "strike" for "suspension." This, said Thomas Kennedy, president of the scale committee will be withheld until tomorrow, when tellers will complete tabulation of results in the referendum.

It already is known that the result of the vote will be, however, Mr. Kennedy, in an open address before the committee went into executive session today, declaring it had been almost "unanimously in favor of strike action."

Sheriff Stood Idly By

Herrin, Ill., June 26.—Investigators for state officials seeking to fix the responsibility for the rioting which cost at least 21 lives in the Lester strip mine last week said they learned today from Sheriff Melvin Thaxton that neither he nor his deputies took any steps to prevent the massacre.

When the shooting started last Wednesday night, the sheriff told Colonel Samuel N. Hunter, of the Illinois National Guard, and two other investigators, that he was advised by Delos Delaney, state attorney of Williamson county, to stay away from the scene for fear he would "get bumped off." The investigators said.

Sheriff Thaxton said, according to his official interviewers, he had 12 special deputies and three regulars, but none of the deputies were called for or sent to the mine until after it had been burned, looted and dynamited and 18 of its workers and defenders slain and a dozen wounded.

Miner's March Prevented

Fairmont, W. Va., June 26.—A march of striking miners and their sympathizers from Monongahela, a mining village near here to Fairmont to remove from jail some miners, was prevented today by Frank Kennedy, district delegate of the United Mine Workers of America according to reports.

PRESIDENT OF B. R. & P. DENIES REPORTED MERGER

Rochester, June 26.—William T. Noonan, president of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railroad, today made the following statement with regard to the reported participation of the B. R. & P. in a merger with the Western Maryland, Wheeling and Lake Erie, and Toledo, St. Louis and Western railroads.

"Instead of continuing the reported consolidation of four properties, including the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, we have replied to newspaper inquiries that, speaking for this property alone, we have no knowledge of the plan which was reported to be under consideration."

NO FOREIGNERS KILLED

Shanghai, June 26.—Rear Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, commanding the United States Naval patrol on the Yangtze river, who arrived tonight on his flagship, U. S. S. Isabel, confirmed reports of the recent uprisings in Kiangsu province, and the killing of many natives, but declared that no foreigners had been killed or captured.

HISTORIC CATHEDRAL HIS RESTING PLACE

Body of Field Marshal Wilson
Trundled to St. Paul's on Flower-Laden Gun Carriage

London, June 26.—From the bullet, marked doorway in Eaton Place where he died, the body of the late Field Marshal Sir Henry H. Wilson today was trundled on a flower-laden gun carriage to its tomb beneath the great dome of St. Paul's, where he enshrined the bodies of Wellington, Nelson and others who made their history on the battlefield and the quaterdeck. Beneath dull, drizzling skies, thousands of escorting troops, horse and foot, carried in front of the black covered coffin the draped colors of some of the regiments which the dead field marshal had captured to victory in the great war while alone the late rumbling caisson marched to a new resting place.

Six officers in resplendent uniforms bore the field marshal's medals and decorations and his baton on scarlet cushions. Then marched the Duke of Connaught, representing King George, abreast the field marshal's war time colleague and beloved friend, Marshal Foch. Scarcely discernible through the windows of a black horse-drawn carriage rode the most pathetic figure in the procession—the sorrowing widow in deep mourning.

The king's flag hung from the mast above the palace as the solemn line went by, while on government buildings the union jacks were half-masted.

The three-mile route was cordoned off by white-gloved constables, with armed police in plain clothes mingling with the crowd.

Through silent ranks the gun carriage passed to the front of the cathedral where the coffin was lowered upon the broad stone steps, where it was received by the clergy and officials of the city of London. In the distance boomed a 19-gun salute. Immediately behind the coffin walked Lady Wilson, her head slightly bowed, but with resolute step and alone, inside the historic cathedral, 4,000 mourners representing all phases of British life, together with the foreign envoys, including George Harvey, the American ambassador, awaited the arrival of the cortege.

The service was brief and simple. The gun of two other great warriors, Lord Roberts and Lord Wolseley, and near the final resting place of England's greatest military heroes, Nelson and Wellington.

SOVIET CAUSES CONSTERNATION AT THE HAGUE

Russian Delegation Announces on Arrival That It Wants Credits
Before All Else

PARLEY IMPERILED

Policy of Patiently Listening to Soviet Spokesmen Alone Will Save Conference

(By the Associated Press.)

The Hague, June 26.—Bolshevik Russia wants credit before anything else.

This pronouncement was made tonight by Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Russian delegation, which arrived here today. In his first statement to the press, and it has created consternation among the representatives of the European countries here, because they had virtually agreed to discuss credits last of all—after some tentative accord had been reached on the questions of private property and Russian debts.

Some of the delegates believe that persistence of the Bolsheviks in this attitude may imperil the conference; they point out that there can be no serious conversations about loaning money or opening credits until some satisfaction is first obtained concerning property and debts. Belgium and France will be the first to oppose the Soviet procedure.

The eve of the conference, therefore, has produced a thorny issue, which only adherents to the policy of calmly and patiently listening to the Bolshevik spokesmen can save from wrecking the conference at an early date.

The Russians have further announced that as they have only three delegates they cannot split into sub-committees, but must all go together to the various meetings. This upsets plans which were arranged before the Russians arrived and will probably necessitate further sessions of the non-Russian delegates to readjust the formation of the committee.

An unofficial communique relative to today's proceedings said:

"An interview occurred this afternoon between M. Litvinoff and M. Patten (president of the central commission) at the Peace palace. M. Litvinoff was accompanied by M. Sokolnikoff and M. Krestinsky. He stated that Krestinsky and Rakovsky would attend the conference later. M. Litvinoff and M. Patten agreed on the best methods for work, the former saying that as the Russian commission was composed of only three members, it could not divide into three sub-committees. He expressed the desire that the first meeting be with the sub-committee on credits, which is the first question Russia wishes to solve."

WOMEN TO FIGHT JAZZ AND SONGS

Declare Two-Thirds of Present-Day
Ballads Should Be Suppressed—
Raise $120,000 for New Home

Chattanooga, June 26.—Delegates to the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in an hour and five minutes here today, pledged $120,000 for the new headquarters at Washington. The first $70,000 is to go for the actual cost of the house and an additional $50,000 for furnishings. After the sessions today, Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Minneapolis, executive director, expressed confidence that $30,000 more will shortly be added to the sum already pledged, leaving $50,000 above present expenses for a permanent headquarters maintenance fund.

A campaign against jazz and obscene songs was initiated by the federation today. The federation music committee has made a survey of popular music as a result of which it claims that at least two-thirds of the present day songs should be suppressed. Committees will be formed to watch the music placed on sale throughout the country and to prosecute wherever the necessary evidence is secured.

Prohibition enforcement, the Near East Relief, and free kindergartens were endorsed by the convention today and resolutions were presented for action later, calling for the settlement of disputes by arbitration and international law and supporting the Colorado river dam, American opera, constructive government policies for the betterment of Indians, the penal reform program of the national committee on prisons, and child labor and the Towner-Sterling bill.

A COMEDY OF ERRORS

Colgate's Star Twirler, Representing Umulilla on the Mound, Proved Easy for Giants—Scamion in Excellent Form.

Something like 325 years ago one William Shakespeare got busy and wrote what now goes under the name of A Comedy of Errors, but had Bill postponed the date of his first until somewhere around the beginning of the twentieth century, he might have had a real story of misplay to tell. It was rumored around the city last evening that there had been a ball game between the Oneonta Giants and Umulilla, but there were none who would state positively that a real game had taken place. Instead of the genuine article, a substitute was pushed off on the unsuspecting public who attended the fireworks at Neahwa park diamond, when Umulilla went down to defeat at the hands of Bridwell's cohorts to the tune of 12 to 2, plus many base hits and errors. There were things displayed before the gaze of the spectators which ought never to be seen in the ball yard. Errors doesn't begin to tell the story, for a common garden variety of misplay would have felt out of place among the colossal blunders which took place yesterday afternoon. There were many imperfect plays that avoided recording only because there was no one on base to take advantage of them, or else some freak of luck kept the runners quiet.

Kinney started the hill work for the visitors and in the second, when four consecutive men had gotten safe hits, he was yanked in favor of Pop Bell, who had worked the major part of one of the games at Utica Sunday. However, it is not to be wondered that the Colgate star blew, for the support behind and in front of him in the initial frame was nothing to brag about. But even at that he contributed his share by striking three men at important stages of the round. There was only one hit used to help manufacture the four tallies of the first stanza, that hit being a double by Hermann across third bag into left.

There were several interesting plays which enlivened an otherwise dull contest. Hatch made a couple of good catches. Sinsack got hold of a twisting foul fly in the third which brought forth applause and in the fifth he started a double play which was interesting, to say the least. He had gone way back to the gate after a foul fly and only got it just as he crashed into the barrier, but he clutched the ball and threw across the diamond, getting Steiner off his guard and getting him caught in a run-up which eventually resulted in his demise. Pop Bell stuck out his gloved list in the sixth, cutting a hit off Hatch's list by retaining possession of the enlarged golf ball. Gray made a good run and catch of Gilmore's almost a single on the very last play of the game.

Farrell had gotten a life in the first on a bad boot by Gilhooley. Parcell was passed, and Hatch's sacrifice put him along in notch, from which stations Hermann's hot drive across third base scored them. "Ab" made an attempt to steal third and got away with it prettily. While Hermann was on the hot corner waiting an opportunity to come across, Alexander was granted free transportation to first and took second unmolested by any throw from the catcher. Bridwell was delivered four hard ones, the last one doing a passed ball, scoring the Colgate captain, Alex getting third. Sinsack hit a grounder which Kinno cuffed down sufficiently for Gilhooley to handle, Alexander bringing in the fourth run. Reid fanned.

Scamion fanned for a starter of the second, but Farrell a d Purcell each got a hit, the latter one being a bunt. Hatch came to the plate with an extra base hit tacked to the list, the ball getting to the fence in right field, which drive scored Farrell. Hermann got a triple to center field, sending in both Purcell and Hatch. At this stage Bell shouldered the responsibilities of the hurling mound. Alexander got a single, scoring Hermann, but was caught at second for the first out of a double killing when Bridwell hit to Keating.

By means of considerable hitting and much assistance from the Umulilla outfit, the Giants continued to rise, the ball until their total stood at an even dozen, at which time they ceased their run gathering activities and let the other side get a couple.

In the seventh, Babe, first up, got the first hit of the game off Scamion. It was a beautiful drive to right field and netted the runner three quarters of the circuit. Keating got a single to center scoring Babe. Hunter's fly left things status quo, but Byrnes, scorching single across the box and second base into the middle garden shoved Keating to second. Steiner hit to Farrell who got Byrnes, with the aid of Bridwell, at second, Keating moving to third, where he died. Gray's grounder being taken care of by Bridwell, who forced Steiner.

The U. C. A. representatives got their second one in the eighth. Bell got a single to the left hand outer field, following William's fly out to Reid. Gilhooley doubled to left field, Bell going to third. Babe hit a long fly into Reid's hands, on which Bell scored.

This afternoon the same teams will again clash on the Umulilla diamond and they were promising last evening that things would be somewhat different on this occasion. Let's go.

ROCHESTER AFTER STEFFEN

International League Team Wants Colgate and Oneonta Star—Had Wonderful Collegiate Record—Hermann Led Maroon Forces in Hitting.

According to a dispatch in Saturday's Utica Press, Dewey Steffen, brilliant outfielder on Bridwell's Oneonta Giants, is wanted badly by the Rochester club of the International League. The sensational collegian is signed up with Oneonta for the season, however, and will in all probability perform here during the summer. The Utica paper has this to say concerning Steffen:

Walter Dewey Steffen, foremost athlete of Utica, second baseman of the Utica Knights of Columbus team and captain and star outfielder of the Colgate university nine of this season, may join the Rochester International League team within the near future. Steffen yesterday received a message from Business Manager Hapgood asking him to forward terms at once.

It will not be surprising to Utica fans to learn that Steffen has been offered terms to enter the professional game. For seasons past he has ranked among the best of the semi-professional talent and that he has the opportunity to advance in the game will be pleasing news to his friends.

Steffen enjoyed one of his best seasons as leader of the powerful Maroon nine this spring, hitting 147 and fielding .964 in 13 games. His hard and timely hitting featured many of the victories of "Bill" Reid's championship team and in the field he proved one of the best. Out of 48 trips to the plate Steffen hit safely on 20 occasions, and he was a very clever base runner and was surpassed by only one other member of the Maroon forces—Kelley, left fielder, who in 17 games scored 22 times. In the garden Steffen accepted 27 out of 28 chances.

The Press also speaks in very complimentary terms of "Ab" Hermann, Oneonta stellar third sacker and captain-elect of the Colgate team for 1923. Hermann's wonderful work did much toward making the Colgate team one of the best in collegiate circles for the year. He led the team in hitting with an average of .466, hitting safely 34 times out of 73 trips to the plate and scoring 15 runs. His fielding average was .986, but six errors being charged to him out of 52 chances. Hermann played in every one of the 17 games participated in by the powerful Maroon outfit.

Junior White Sox Victorious.
The Junior White Sox have added two more games to their string of victories. Yesterday afternoon they journeyed down the valley to Utica and took the measure of the Otsego Midgets, leaving them with the small end of the 12 to 4 score. Shaw and Rutan composed the Oneonta battery, while Samlike pitched and Cornell caught for Otsego. Cornell made a double hit. A return game will be played at Neahwa park Thursday afternoon.

On Saturday, the White Sox defeated St. Mary's nine by the score of 3 to 2, in eleven innings. Mulford's single brought in Shaw with the winning run after a thrilling contest. The batteries were Shaw and Hale for the White Sox and Brady and Carr for St. Mary's. Shaw accomplished a record by striking out 20 men, while Brady fanned five.

Junior Cubs Do Junior Giants.
The Junior Cubs and the Junior Giants played a game of baseball in Gilber park Monday forenoon. The Cubs won by the score of 7 to 0. The batteries were Mulford and Imhoff. Giants, Renger and Merchant. Dougherty, umpire. Features of the game were Imhoff's home run, and Mulford's pitching, striking out seven men and allowing no hits.

Britton Defends Title Against Benny Leonard

New York, June 26.—Jack Britton, world's welterweight boxing champion, successfully defended his title against Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, Referee Patsy Haley claiming that Leonard hit Britton while the latter was on one knee, in the thirteenth round of their 15-round match tonight.

After two minutes and 42 seconds of fighting in the thirteenth round, Britton suddenly went down on one knee and the referee started counting over him. Then Leonard walked over and struck Britton with a left to the body. The referee said he had not seen a foul blow struck before Britton went down, although Britton claimed one. Britton then sat in his corner unhurt.

Britton had all the better of the fight until this incident. He had been on the offensive during the greater part of the contest and took Leonard's hardest blows with a toss of the head and a smile. He cut Leonard's lips with lefts and rights and although he was turned around several times by the lightweight champion's straight rights to jaw, he came back at all times unruffled and full of fight.

MOLLA ANXIOUS TO ANNEX WORLD TITLE

Chief Interest Centers in U. S. Champ's Appearance in Wimbledon Tennis Classic

New York, June 26.—Five Americans, two women and three men, compete in the series of British grass court champions at Wimbledon, England, which began today, not, however, as an official team but as individual entries. The United States Lawn Tennis association decided to concentrate its resources upon a team to defend the Davis cup, emblematic of the world's team championship, thereby precluding official sponsorship for the Wimbledon classic.

The quintet which is entered is the same as last year on the women's side, but due to the declination of William T. Tilden, 2d, premier singles champion of the world, to play abroad this year the men's section of the invitational five is not as strong as last year. Chief interest is in Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, five times American champion, who failed at Wimbledon last season.

Headed by the official American team was headed by Mrs. Mallory and Tilden, the latter successfully defending his world's title. J. D. E. Jones and Arnold Jones, father and son, the others, did not go this year, but Miss Edith Signourney, of Boston again accompanied Mrs. Mallory. Dean Mathew, C. C. Caner and H. A. Gore will represent America in the men's tennis.

Of course, the result of their playing will be an American victory or an American defeat, as the scores will tell, but if it is a defeat in the men's half, Yankee devotees of the net will gain comfort from the fact that the best American players were unable to make the trip. Mrs. Mallory's title as American woman champion places a different aspect on her entry.

C. C. Caner, familiar to eastern galleries, particularly followers of intercollegiate tennis. While at Harvard Caner was intercollegiate singles champion in 1916 and, with Richard Harte, was intercollegiate doubles champion in 1917. Dean Mathew ranked No. 10 in national standing in 1916 and was an intercollegiate doubles champion at Princeton in 1910 and 1911. Not much is known of Mr. Gore.

Mrs. Mallory sailed for England hoping to meet Miss Suzanne Lenglen, the French champion, who defeated her once abroad but defaulted last summer at Forest Hills where "Marvellous Molla" had carried the court in the first set of the international match 6-2. Miss Lenglen complained of illness at that time.

If these two meet early in the play or both later reach the final round, the Wimbledon tournament will hold for American followers of the racket greater attention than was devoted last year. If they do not meet the tournament will lack the color that the sporting public has been prepared to view from afar, but in any event the spotlight will center on Mrs. Mallory who is much set upon annexing the world's title as she is anxious to defeat "The Suzanne."

With the exception of 1915 Mrs. Mallory has been American champion since her advent in the United States in 1915 as Miss Molla Bjurstedt, a native of Norwegian. Her first year as a matron she dropped to third among the First Ten Women but in 1920 she reassessed herself and last year held to her title. She is the wife of Franklin I. Mallory, a broker.

American Does the Unusual.
Wimbledon, England, June 26.—One record went to America in the first day's play in the tennis tournament here when A. W. Asphalter, an American playing in the doubles, playing the second match, smashed the first ball into the royal box, in which King George and Queen Mary were seated. Although the American is a terrific volleyer, no casualty resulted and the doubles match in which Asphalter was playing with W. C. Crawley as a partner, continued until it was stopped by the rain.

The Story of a Famous Ballet Dancer

Clara Kassinio is famous all over the world for her wonderful dancing. She has made a specialty of performing with the great Test Shows of the world.

For seventeen years Madame Kassinio was associated with the great Ringling Brothers Circus. You will remember that each year they presented a great Pageant. One year it was Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp, and another year it was Cinderella, etc. These Pageants Clara Kassinio was the star, presenting beautiful dancing, especially in toe dancing, at which she is an expert. More than this, although she has now retired from the Show world actively, she is still a very beautiful woman, in figure, as well as face, and in spite of the wonderful and remarkable presentation, she has suffered, as other women do.

She says, "For several years before I retired, and even until lately, I had a great deal of stomach trouble. The medicine prescribed by physicians and that recommended by others did not help me, but at last one of the people of the Show told me to try Sennat. I was generally out of sorts; my complexion was getting bad and I was getting nervous. I used to do a lot of good, and I noticed that the worse my complexion got the poorer my digestion became, and the greater constipation. Sennat acted in such a way upon the blood that it soon cleared up my complexion, restored my appetite, and removed constipation. I cannot say too much in praise of Sennat."

Hundreds of famous actors, dancers and athletes have used Sennat and have made it known all over the world as "Sennat, the Sensitive Tonic."

Any obliging druggist will supply you with Sennat.

Election expenses year 1921 (Chamberlain's Report)	12 dists.	$1744.86
Election expenses year 1922 (Budget Estimate)	12 dists.	$3500.00

The election expenses for the year 1919-1920-1921 combined total $11,878.05, or an average per year of $3,792.68, which amount is used as annual average cost from which to compute the saving in expense.

With 12 election districts in the city the average annual cost per district is $316.00.

Under the Election Law as applied to the use of voting machines, the whole city can be voted in 6 election districts by the use of 9 machines—three districts as then constituted requiring 2 machines each.

Elimination of General Clerks 3 districts

Saving in expense (net) $1,956.00

The saving in expense that would be affected through the lesser cost of supplies, printing, etc., is not taken into account for the reason that it would be at least partly offset by the insurance on the machines, compensation of the person who acts as custodian of the machines and possible storage.

Nine (9) voting machines would cost the city $8,460.00 plus interest at 6 per cent on deferred payments if purchased on the plan suggested of retiring such an amount of the indebtedness each year as is covered by the average annual saving in expense. Under this plan of paying the saving each year until the machines are paid for not

The bale bounded from the pavement and when it struck the pavement again it fell upon the left leg of young Joseph in such manner as to fracture it above the ankle. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I cannot say too much about what your medicine has done for me and for my daughter." Mrs. W. S. Hughes, Greenville, Del.

PROGRESS OF INVENTION.

There are many things common nowadays that not half a century ago were unheard of, as for example the airplane, which, though only a few years ago watched by everybody, is now scarcely watched for by anybody, even in remote country districts. And one hundred and six years ago, in New England, which at that time was doubtless more conservatively Puritan than at present, there was a torrid discussion over the introduction of gas as a street illuminant. The arguments against such lighting, which were fully summarized in a newspaper at that time, apparently left no open ground for discussion, and they were as follows:

1. Artificial illumination was an attempt to interfere with the divine scheme of things, which had ordained that it should be dark at night.
2. Emanations of illuminating gas were injurious. Lighted streets would incline people to remain late out of doors, leading to increase of ailments by colds.

3. Fear of darkness would vanish, and drunkenness and depravity increase.
4. Horses would be frightened and thieves emboldened.

5. If streets were illuminated every night, such constant illumination would rob festive occasions of their charm.

Despite these clinchers in the way of argument, gas came in for street lighting, and after that electricity, by which practically everywhere the former is now supplanted. Moreover, and this is even more evidence of an age of universal tolerance and acceptance of conditions, the wonders of the nineteenth century, such as the telegraph and telephone, electrical illumination, the steamship and the railway, have ceased to be marvels, and even airplanes, wireless telegraphy and submarines are accepted as matter-of-fact developments in the modern world.

Still one wonders what would have happened to the individual who in the days of Cotton Mather had invented an airplane, even a ship to make its way not top of but under the waves. There would certainly have been brief tenure of life for one thus in league with infernal powers to overturn the orderly processes of nature.

Fortunately, these things did not come all at once, even in our own times, but were based on other inventions and tentative efforts which accustomed the world to the great discoveries. Had it been otherwise, had Edison, the Wrights, Marconi, and many others lived two or three hundred years ago—they would have had brief time to demonstrate or explain.

NINE CENTS FOR BOOKS.

The possessor of nine cents couldn't even buy admission to a motion picture show. He couldn't acquire a great deal of food or clothing, nor buy out a five-and-ten-cent store. Yet he can, with his nine cents, purchase almost unlimited reading privileges with all the attendant entertainment, comfort, education and stimulation that reading may provide.

There is a public library in Charlotte, N. C., toward which the public contributes only nine cents a year per capita. With an annual budget of $5,000, the local librarian maintains a full-time staff of three in addition to herself, and adds almost miraculously to the collection of books. Better still, she keeps the library in use and the books in circulation.

With only 10,000 volumes, 4,000 of which are reference works, that Charlotte library achieved the record of circulating 66,264 books last year. In that year, too, the demand for non-fiction books increased materially over that for fiction.

Such volumes as Queen Victoria and the Outline of History—books of rather high price—have been added to the collection, and more will come as fast as the librarian can afford to get them.

While the above figures are no doubt flattering and satisfactory in the section of the country in which Charlotte is located, it indicates a circulation of only about one and a third books annually per capita. In Oneonta, for example, which has only one-fourth the population of Charlotte, the library circulation last year was over seven volumes per capita, and the total many thousands in excess of the Charlotte total. Still it is a gratifying thing to know that even in North Carolina, which is one of the few remaining states where child labor is tolerated, there is growth of culture, which eventually will no doubt lead the commonwealth to higher ideals of civic and social duty.

Bible Mentions Cucumber.

The cucumber is one of the few vegetables mentioned in the bible, and it is still popular in hot, dry climates, and in our own hot season. "Cool as a cucumber" has become a proverb. The plant itself, however, is a lover of warm soil and warm weather. The lighter, looser types of soil are best for cucumbers, but there should be a good supply of organic matter. Well-rotted stable manure thoroughly mixed with the soil before the seeds are planted will meet this requirement. An abundant water supply is especially necessary for cucumbers and artificial watering pays well in increased productivity, gardeners at the State College of Agriculture say. There must be good drainage, however. For slicing, White Spine and Davis Perfect are among the popular varieties. Special varieties, such as Boston Pickling and Fordhook Pickling are grown for pickles.

SUP'T MERRITT RESIGNS

Head of Riverside Manufacturing Plant in Oneonta Removes Next Week to Delhi—Opens Retail Variety Store—Oneonta Regrets Departure but Congratulates Delhi.

As had for some time been rumored, though no public confirmation was available, A. C. Merritt has resigned his position as superintendent of the Oneonta plant of the Riverside Manufacturing company. His resignation will take effect with the close of the present month, and on Saturday the family will remove to Delhi, where already a considerable part of his household goods have been taken. In that village he will open a retail variety store, for which the place seems to offer exceptional opportunity.

Mr. Merritt has been for twelve years a resident of Oneonta, coming in 1910 to this city from Utica, where he had for five years been a superintendent in the Utica plant of the same company. Ever since he has been the efficient head of the Riverside business in Oneonta, where he has won and retained the confidence and respect not only of the employees of the company but of all in the city whose good fortune it has been to know him. His decision to resign his present position is regretted alike by the company which he has so well represented and by all who know him in this city. Efficient as he has been in his duties with the Riverside company, he has also been active in all movements looking to civic betterment and social welfare. From any standpoint he is a man whom the city can ill afford to lose, but one whom Delhi is to be congratulated upon securing. The change is actuated in part by desire to engage in business for himself and in part by considerations of health.

Mr. Merritt will open his Delhi store, which will be in the McIntosh block, about July 15. He has leased the Judge Wagner house on Delaware avenue, where he has immediate possession. The best wishes of their many friends in Oneonta will go with Mr. and Mrs. Merritt to their new home.

It is expected that announcement of the plans of the company and of his successor with the Riverside company will be made in a few days.

TIPS TO THE HOUSEWIFE

It Is Easy to Set Color in Summer Dresses—Brief Instructions.

The simplest way to set colors in summer wash dresses is to soak them thoroughly in salt and water, because salt is cheap and always at hand, housewives have found; a halfpail of salt to a gallon of water is the right proportion. Other substances, however, give more lasting results for certain colors. Other substances, however, give more lasting results for certain colors. The following have been used successfully by home economics workers at the state agricultural college at Ithaca for setting colors in cotton or linen.

To set blue, one-half cup mild vinegar to a gallon of water; for pink or red, from one tablespoon to one-half cup of vinegar to one gallon of water; for lavender, one tablespoon of sugar of lead to each gallon of water; for green, one-half to one ounce of alum according to depth of the tint, or the same proportion of sugar of lead. For black, deep blue, or very dark colors, from one to two tablespoons of ox gall may be dissolved in each quart of water; the garment is soaked in this solution, dried, and then washed.

LOCAL MENTION

Flushed by their overwhelming victory of yesterday, Bridwell's Giants will journey to Unadilla today to try to make it two straight against Bell's Athletics. Doubtless many fans will make the trip down the valley to encourage their favorites. A cracking good game is expected.

Motorists report that the highway between Otego and Unadilla has been quite heavily oiled in its entire width with little covering. It is suggested that it might be advisable for those driving to Unadilla for the game this afternoon to take the dirt road on the south side of the river between the villages named.

GAMES WORTH SEEING

Susquehanna and Champlain and Saratoga Divisions Play Double Header Wednesday at Neahwa Park.

A baseball event of unusual interest in Oneonta will be the double header which will be pulled off at Neahwa park on Wednesday of this week. The contesting teams will be those representing the Susquehanna and the Champlain and Saratoga Divisions. Both are well matched and made up of the picked men of their divisions and a battle royal for baseball honors is anticipated.

The Susquehanna division has won its last two games, the first from Pennsylvania and the other with Champlain and Saratoga. It now wants to clinch its chance for the pennant by winning the games Wednesday. The Champlain boys are equally determined on their side and there will be something doing every minute of both games.

The games are called for 2:30 o'clock. Remember that the contest is a double header and for honors.

Knot-hole Fans Reprimanded.

The ten men and boys apprehended Saturday afternoon for viewing the ball game from the fence and trees about the Athletic field were given a severe reprimand when arraigned before Judge Huntington yesterday and were released upon their promise not to repeat the offense. The judge called attention to the fact that citizens had given of their time and money that Oneonta might be represented by a good ball team and emphasized the unfairness of watching the games without paying for the privilege.

Investigation in Arson Case.

No new evidence was unearthed by the police yesterday in the arson investigation being conducted in connection with the burning of the barn of S. R. Mathew Saturday evening and the attempt to fire his home. Mr. Mathew arrived from Wartburg yesterday. He states that his loss is not more than one quarter covered by insurance.

ANNUAL ALUMNI BANQUET

Large Assemblage Finds Affair at High School Last Evening One of Most Enjoyable Ever Held—C. Nathan Pendleton Elected President of Association.

Reminiscence of the student days of yore, pleasant comment on present times, and plans for increasing the love which all Oneonta High school graduates bear their Alma Mater were mingled in the toasts given at the annual banquet of the Alumni association held last evening at the High school building. Delightful always are these get-togethers of the men and women who have passed their school days on Christian Hill and last evening's affair will long be remembered by the large number of alumni. Seniors, and their friends as one of the most delightful ever held.

The banquet was served in the Paul Revere kitchen by Killeen with the assistance of members of the High school classes in domestic science. At the speakers' table were seated those who were to respond to toasts, members of the Board of Education and faculty representatives. The report had been prepared with care and proved entirely satisfying to the diners.

Following the serving of the last course an innovation was introduced in the form of the reading of the class roll the members of each class passing as they number was reached. The class of 1881 was the oldest represented. The classes of recent years had quite naturally the largest number of members present but there were goodly delegations from many of the older classes and scarcely a year was unrepresented by at least one graduate. The roll called voices were given by the various units, no tied with each other in displaying their class loyalty.

The toastmaster was Walter M. Goldsmith, '16, vice president of the association, and his introductions to the various speakers were both witty and to the point. The first speaker was Allen Bishop, representing the senior class. Mr. Bishop took as his subject "Teachers' and gave a very interesting talk on the relations between student and teacher, emphasizing the point that the seniors could attribute much of their success to the encouragement and help given them by their instructors.

Following two delightful vocal solos by Miss Annie Waterz '12, Miss Mildred A. Peck instructor in Latin at the High school since 1914 and who this year severs her connection with the faculty to accept a position at Fordham, sides opportunities responded to the toast. Students I have Taught." Miss Peck took occasion to compliment O. H. S. graduates upon the success they have won in various fields of endeavor and called attention with rare humor to various incidents occurring during her years of teaching here. Her thoughts at certain men and women who had been in her classes were heartily enjoyed. In closing Miss Peck said she would always have pleasant memories of O. H. S. and that she would always regard as students as the finest lot she had ever taught. Before introducing the next speaker Mr. Goldsmith voiced the regret of all that Miss Peck is to leave and said that she would always be regarded as one of the best instructors that the High school has ever had.

The last speaker was Mrs. W. H. Wilson of the class of 1887 who talked in reminiscent vein of the days when she was a student under Prof. Bull. She spoke of the old building with its two departments, one on the first floor and one on the second of the cemetery on the corner where the students used to play and of many other things so different from the conditions of today. Mrs. Wilson said that the first alumni banquet she held following the Spanish American war. Her address was keenly enjoyed.

While the nominating committee was preparing the list of officers for 1922-23 several matters of business were transacted. The matter of creating class spirit by the election of a permanent class society by each graduating class whose duty it would be to keep track of the whereabouts and activities of the members and by holding class reunions once a year was discussed and the association voted to recommend such procedure to each succeeding class. It was also voted that the association give each year a silver loving cup to the member of the graduating class attaining the highest standing.

The following officers for the ensuing year were nominated and unanimously elected: President, C. Nathan Pendleton '17, vice president Katherine Curtis '16, secretary, Frances Platt '19, executive committee, Charles J. Beams '16, Woodard '15, Clait Hunter, Claiton '15 and Helen Keen '21.

The singing of the Alma Mater then followed at the conclusion of which dancing was enjoyed in the school gymnasium. Exceptionally fine music was furnished by the Killeen-Syncopeans.

ODELL CASE DISMISSED

United States Commissioner of Binghamton Decides Evidence Insufficient to Hold Her for Violation of Statute.

Following the raid made in Oneonta and vicinity the other night by federal dry agents, Mrs. John Odell, United States commissioner, at Binghamton yesterday afternoon, charged with violating the federal statute. She was represented by Attorney George L. Rockes and Lee D. VanWoert of this city.

After the prosecution had presented the evidence of guilt secured in the recent raid upon the hotel conducted by Mr. Odell and herself at Maryland, her attorneys moved for her discharge upon the grounds that there was not sufficient evidence upon which to hold her for trial for the United States court and the motion was granted, the court holding that the evidence was insufficient.

It was also disclosed at the hearing that contrary to the report published in The Star of the raid upon that hotel, there was no arrest made in the case of Mr. Odell and no charge was made against him.

Robbed of $4,000 Savings By Old Confidence Game

Mike Peganovitch, a Pollock Working in Lumber Yard of D. & H. Shops, Draws Savings of Many Years and Entrusts Money to Strangers—One of Offenders Caught—Man with the Money, An American, Still at Liberty

Somewhere about $4,000, representing the savings of 12 years of labor in the lumber yard at the D. & H. shops was lost yesterday morning by Mike Peganovitch, a Pollock, residing at 18 Baker street, he falling an easy victim to two confidence men who worked upon him an old game—old that it is rusty. One of the pair has been apprehended, but the one that has the money was still at liberty at a late hour last night. All that the unsuspecting fellow has left to show for the $4,000 which he drew from the Wilber National bank earlier in the day, together with some additional money, though no great amount, are four one dollar bills wrapped around packages of waste newspaper cut to about the size of greenbacks.

The story of the game worked upon Mike as related to the officials is substantially as follows:

Saturday morning last on the early train Mike and a fellow countryman, Wesley Romanuk, left for Schenectady to do some shopping there. Along about 3 o'clock in the afternoon of that day they were accosted by another native of the same country who inquired where they were from and if there was any opportunity to go into business here. They evidently talked freely with him and from developments probably admitted that they had prospered and had saved some money. The stranger secured from Mike his address on Baker street.

Sunday afternoon the new acquaintance arrived at Mike's boarding house and inquired after Romanuk and together they started out in search of him, but could not locate him. During the afternoon Mike's friend told that he had an abundance of money given him by a friend who owned a gold mine in Alaska, and sought to bribe some good honest working men who had saved their money and did not drink. It was suggested that the two go into business with the money.

About 7 o'clock his friend (?) bade him good night saying that he was going to the Onondaga hotel for the night but would return at 8 o'clock yesterday morning to go out and look up some business they could buy.

Yesterday morning quite promptly the stranger arrived and the two started out to investigate. While coming up the viaduct Mike's acquaintance met another chap and without introducing him to Mike commenced to talk to him in English and as quickly as it appeared time it was unfolded to Mike that the second man, the one they had met, was none other than the rich American. It was agreed that they go over into Brown park and talk the business matter over.

At the park the American was soon shedding crocodile tears while telling about his desire to help poor working people who did not drink or have other bad habits, those who had saved some money and would save what he gave them. They must be people who believe God and do right. He soon had Mike pulling out his bankbook showing nearly $3,800 on deposit in the Wilber National bank. The American said that he could not accept bank books but must see the real money and know that they had it.

Mike Goes After Money.

After the Schenectady man had pulled a roll, probably of paper covered with a greenback, from each trouser pocket, Mike decided that he, too, could show the American real money, and promptly started off for the bank, his Polish friend with him.

Following their custom bank officials attempted to dissuade Mike from withdrawing his money suggesting that if as claimed, he was to return to the old country, that he best take only money for his expenses and foreign exchange for the rest. Nothing but the bills would satisfy Mike, he declaring that he would carry them in a hidden belt. It was then 9:30 o'clock or after. Taking all the usual precautions the money was finally paid to Mike.

Shortly after leaving the bank the American rejoined them and it was suggested that they get a tin box in which Mike and his friend were to place their money and the additional sum sufficient to make it $4,000, which the American was to give them to go into business together. The American handed the first sharper a twenty dollar bill with which to get the box and it was agreed that they should meet at the D. & H. station, the American and Mike being joined shortly by the second Pollock.

There it was agreed that they go over to the ball park and place the money of the three in the tin box. Mike to carry the box home and the other Pollock to keep the key and they were to meet again last night and decide what business to buy, or divide it between them as they saw fit.

Took Mike's Last Copper.

Mike had placed his money in a new colored handkerchief at the bank and before they all placed their contribution to the fund in the tin box, they asked Mike if he had put his all in the pool and the poor fellow pulled about $80 more from his pockets and placed it in the handkerchief. The other Polish fellow placed his big rolls in another handkerchief and both were believed by Mike to have gone into the box. The American pulled out a tan paper, collapsible envelope and with bills showing and it too went into the box and it was locked. Mike was given the box and the other Pollock took the key. They returned to the depot, where they separated.

Mike Becomes Suspicious.

Mike must have become suspicious by the time he reached his boarding house on Baker street, for he tried to open the tin box, only to find that his handkerchief and money were not inside and that the rolls of money were but rolls of paper covered with one dollar bills. The fat envelope had tightly folded piles of paper crowded into the compartments with one dollar bills cleverly covering the exposed edges so that one bill concealed two packages of the paper.

Mike rushed to police headquarters and told his story to Chief Horton. The victim of the confidence men was quite excited and he gave only an incoherent story of the crime, describing but one of the men to the chief and telling of but one. It was divined that the men probably took the 10:45 train for Binghamton, and which was then due at Sidney, was held by D. & H. officials until state troopers from the barracks in that village could board the train. They located the fellow of whom they had been given a description and placed him under arrest. Later when given a description of the other fellow they declared that he, too, was in the next seat and could easily have been captured. The D. & H. trainmen insist that he beat a hasty retreat after the companion had been nabbed. The American was at liberty at midnight.

Vigorous Search Commenced.

It was not until after Chief Horton and other officers were half way to Sidney by motor car that Mike told of the second fellow, the American, and the real crook. By the time that word could be gotten to Binghamton the train had arrived there and its passengers scattered. Chief Horton was accompanied by Officer Crouch of the force and Officer Brown of the D. & H., and they, aided by State Troopers at Sidney, combed the territory between Sidney and Binghamton, during the afternoon, but found no trace of the American. He is described as about 30 years of age, five feet six or seven inches tall, wearing a brown suit and brown shoes and a black cap. He has a small face and black hair with a mole on either cheek.

After bringing the man arrested to Onondaga late in the afternoon, Chief Horton and other officers went back down the valley last night to continue the search. In the meantime, messages have been sent out asking for the arrest of anyone answering the description of the American.

Men Stopped at The Onondaga.

There is little doubt that the two men stopped at The Onondaga. Two registered there at about 7 o'clock Sunday evening as J. W. Kramer of Troy and George Brown of New York city. They paid for lodging only and in advance.

The man in custody admits being one of the men involved in giving his name as Joseph Servin and says that he registered as J. W. Kramer. Little is learned from him about the other fellow. Servin had only about $20 on his person when arrested. Who Brown is only a matter of conjecture, though the suspicion is held that he is a crook from Albany or Troy.

Apprehended Old Offender.

While searching a freight train at Nineveh one of the Troopers pulled a fellow from the train who answers perfectly the description including left cheek of a safe cracker wanted for a recent crime. The fellow wanted is said to peddle milk bottle covers when in need of funds and the one captured had several of these in his possession. He is being detained at Sidney pending identification.

Sympathy for Peganovitch.

The victim of the confidence men is known as an industrious, hard working man who has saved carefully for the 12 years he has been employed in the lumber yard here. Sympathy is felt for him as he speaks English poorly and reads but little. He is unmarried.

Same Game Worked in Binghamton.

The following is from a late edition of the Binghamton Press last night. The fact that this trick is identical with one played here several weeks ago by two men on a Clinton street resident, leads the detectives to believe that the men are probably the same who operated here.

While here the men got acquainted with a resident of Clinton street and offered to start him in the bootlegging business if he would put up $500. He produced the money and the men left him holding a tin box containing a few $1 bills.
